From an exhibitor's perspective, for Oz Ikiz, responsible for sales at Polin, having experienced the show in previous years, the 2011 show was one of the most successful the company has ever experienced, Ikiz telling InterPark: "A lot of projects have been on hold because of the economic crisis but we have seen from the show that the industry has started to move again, which is really pleasing.

"The quality of visitor was also quite pleasing. Most of the customers we spoke with either have on-going new projects or expansion projects for their existing parks."
