▲ The D-Wave by the Turkish firm Polin is designed to offer high thrills in a small footprint. Suitable for indoor and outdoor operations, this four-person water slide features a steep entry that creates the thrill of free falling.

For operators looking for something larger, Polin also offers Dragero. Designed for outdoor installations, Dragero is a high-speed, multiperson mat racer slide featuring a significant drop, followed by an uphill ride route that transforms into enclosed aquatube slides and ends in a catch pool. Riders can choose between standard or headfirst entry.

Dragero is available in a number of color combinations and, according to the manufacturer, is compatible with any theming. It also offers high throughput.
